

MATCH RECORDING GUIDE

FILM IT RIGHT.

One camera. The whole court. Held perfectly still. That's all ORBIT needs to track every shot, step and rally in your game. Follow the guide below before you share your clip.

01 THE PERFECT SETUP

Where to put the camera — the single most important thing.

- Behind the baseline. Put the camera at one end of the court, dead center — never off to the side.
- Whole court, corners included. All four court corners must stay in view, with a little breathing room around the edges.
- Get up high. 2–3 m off the floor: a balcony, bleacher or tall tripod. The higher, the cleaner the read.
- Tilt down slightly. Angle the camera down so the full court and both players are captured end to end.

02 THE SIX GOLDEN RULES

Get these right and the AI does the rest.

01

STAND BEHIND THE COURT

Camera at one end, centered on the court — looking straight down the length of play.

02

GET UP HIGH

2–3 metres up. A balcony, the stands, or a tall tripod — height keeps the whole court sharp.

03

SHOW EVERY CORNER

All four court corners stay in frame the entire time. Leave a small margin around the edges.

04

LOCK IT DOWN

Fix it on a tripod or ledge. No handheld, no shake. Once it's rolling, don't touch it.

05

FILM WIDE, NOT TALL

Hold the phone sideways (landscape). Never portrait. No zooming or panning mid-rally.

06

KEEP THE BACKGROUND CALM

Aim away from crowds, moving banners and busy walls. Clutter confuses the shuttle tracker.

03 TECH CHECK

Set your camera to these before you hit record.

04 GET THE FRAME RIGHT

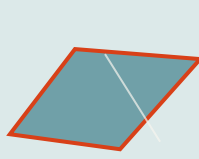

One of these works. The rest can't be analysed.

✓ WHOLE COURT, CENTERED

✗ TOO CLOSE, CORNERS CUT

✗ FILMED FROM THE SIDE

✗ VERTICAL / PORTRAIT

✗ TILTED OR CROWD IN SHOT
